

PROMOTIONS

"The rates this year are almost identical to last year's rates, but we are actually able to promote several thousand more people to each rank than we did initially last year," he said. "That's because we're getting a better handle on testing folks before they deploy—trying to get in sync with the (air and space expeditionary force) battle rhythm.

The chief said, "The message is clear: There is opportunity for those who want to step up to the challenge."

Both promotion lists will be posted to the Air Force Personnel Center's Web page at www.afpc.randolph.af.mil/eprom/ by 5 p.m. Mountain Daylight Time today.

People who tested are expected to receive their score notices in early July, allowing them to see just how their promotion fitness examination and specialty knowledge test scores rank against others within their Air Force specialty. Each individual can also get an electronic copy of his or her score notice June 28 by logging into the virtual military personnel flight at www.afpc.randolph.af.mil/.

The average master sergeant selectee score for the 04E7 master sergeant test cycle was 340.73 points, based on the following:

- ★ 134.33 points for enlisted performance reports.
- ★ 64.01 points for promotion fitness exam.
- ★ 64.86 points for specialty knowledge test.
- ★ 28.30 points for time in grade.
- ★ 36.10 points for time in service.
- ★ 21.21 points for decorations.

The average master sergeant selectee has 3.64 years time in grade and 17.22 years in service. Those selected will be promoted to master sergeant August to July 2005.

The average selectee score for the 04E6 technical sergeant test cycle was 317.55 points, based on the following:
